“ Chuck was very thoughtful and full of sweet surprises. I couldnt have asked for a better step father. He was with me throughout several milestones in my life when nobody else was. He taught me many things and all things he had to offer his unconditional love and kind heart was endless. Above all else he taught me forgiveness was important and it was ok to make a mistake. Respect was of the upmost importance and he was a huge part of my life which I will never forget. He was the best Papi to Hailey and Aaliyah and he loved to spend time with them. He always took out the time to teach them and show them how much the little things are such a joy and blessing to this life.
