“ Hey mama, I miss you. I wish you were here to see how much I changed. I've come a long way and Honey has too. She did choir last year and might do it again soon. I'm in marching band but right now. It's concert season. I'm in high school and I'll be driving soon, can you believe that?!?! Just a few years ago we were grilling out and having fun. It's still fun but not as it was. And I FINALLY got my grades up, so I'm an a/b student for now I have to keep those up, but I miss you soooooooooooooo much and I love you.

“ Hey sis, this is your brother, I miss you more and more each day. You were so fun to be around, and you smelled so good every day. I still smell your body fragrance on my fiancé's body when she's near me. You have two beautiful girls that I love so dearly. I have come a long way and I have changed a whole lot. Mamma is doing good at Marsha's and Mary is doing good as well. I miss you Cherry, I remember you used to help me down and blow brussels sprouts in my face. Until this day I do not eat them, but my fiancé loves everything about them. She reminds me so much of you. Until we meet again, your only brother loves you
