“ Brad & Taylor,

It was very disheartening to learn the news about Emma. I know that you must be heartbroken in the difficult days that have followed. The most important thing is to move forward when you are ready. We always are moving forward in our lives, and the steps that we take may be large or small. I don't know what it is like to be where the two of you are right now. As such, the only thing I can offer you is my support and friendship. If there is anything that I can do to, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Your friend,

- Ian K.

“ Taylor and Brad, I have been thinking about you non-stop since I heard the news about Emma. No words can express the sorrow I feel for your loss. It seems so unfair and I don't understand God's plan in these things. But I do know that she is with God now and surrounded by love both in heaven and here on earth. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ The thought of missing the opportunity to know and love Emma, and the pain of losing her, is only eased by knowing that every second she was with us, she only knew love. Her time on Earth solely consisted of warmth, love, and embraces from her family. She's inspired us to consider the fragility of life and loss, but she's also inspired us to think beyond this life into the treasure that waits for us in heaven--and now she is one of those treasures. I pray that God would wrap Emma's family in a blanket of grace that covers their grief, pain, and loss with love as strong as Emma felt in her last embraces from her loved ones. Sleep well among the stars, Emma.

“ I can't imagine the terrible loss you are feeling right now. There are no words that will ever make it ok. But, I hope you take comfort in knowing that she is in God's arms and will never know any pain from this earth. She will only know love. I'm so sorry for the pain you are going through. We are here if you need anything at all!
Love,
Matt and Becca

“ Taylor and Brad, your baby Emma was called to be one of God's tiniest angel. An angel that will spread the word of love and joy to Mom and Dad like you and Brad. Baby Emma will always be next to you, with you and always around you. Angel Emma will always be in your heart. Be strong you both, God is always with you.

“ The thought of missing the opportunity to know her, love her, and watch her grow is a pain that is only eased by remembering how much joy she brought the ones who love her, and the peace in knowing that she'll never have to experience one moment of pain. Her only experiences in our world were of warmth and love. I think we'll see Emma in all of the beautiful things around us now, and I hope we'll take the time to see her gifts in the beauty God has made. And while she's inspired us to contemplate the fragility of life and loss, she's also inspired us to think beyond this life and into the treasure our future holds. I pray that God's grace would cover her family like a blanket; that they would feel the love and embrace of our Savior the way that Emma felt the last love and embraces from her family. Sleep well among the stars, Emma.

“ Taylor and Brad, I weep with you over the loss of your beautiful baby daughter, Emma. To lose her as you did is beyond heartbreaking. I would like to think Grandpa was there to hold her when she returned to heaven. Please know I am holding all three of you in my heart pocket.

“ Emma Paige was 19", 5 lbs 14 oz of sheer beauty. She has both the look and the joy of her parents. I feel blessed that Taylor and Brad allowed me to hold Emma, hug her, kiss her and love her ♡♡

Dear Emma,

I can't wait to meet you in heaven some day. You were such a blessing to your mom and dad while you were here living inside her womb. I'm sad because I anticipated wonderful things for your life, your first steps, your first day at school, the first time you would make your mom mad, your first boyfriend, your first day at college and all the other firsts of a grand daughter. I know that God had another plan and although I am heartbroken now, I am excited that some day I will share the treasure of your presence. You are loved Emma Paige Valenta.

“ Nobody should ever have to endure the pain that my sister and Brad endured. I'm grateful I was able to be there for them during this devastating time. Emma was seriously the cutest thing ever. I will never forget her beautiful/angelic face. She was a perfect mix of Brad and Taylors features. Forever thankful thankful I was able to hold her and spend a few precious moments with her after she was born. My sister is now the strongest person I know, and I love her so much. Even though I hate that we will not enjoy all the firsts with Emma or watch her grow up on this Earth, I'm sticking to what my sister said which is that Emma will also never know the bad things of the world and will only ever know the love she and Brad had for her. We all loved Emma from the beginning and she will forever be in our hearts and on our minds. Can't wait to see her again in heaven one day.
