“ Why did you have to go so soon? I need you here more than ever. You were always on my side to help and protect me. At 35 years old I still need my Daddy. You were the one I could ALWAYS count on. I miss our 3 AM coffee dates and you fussing at me for making spaghetti or tacos every week. I miss you and love you so much.

“ Although I only met Mr. Haney once, I had the privilege of working with his brother-in-law, Benny Maynor and his daughter Lindsey Haney-Davis at Troy University. Both Benny and Lindsey are exceptionally professional and outstanding, lovely individuals. Knowing that Ken and Pam raised such a beautiful daughter speaks volumes about them as parents. Knowing that Benny was an important part of their lives and will now be honored as a pallbearer, shows how wonderful he has been as a brother, not just an in-law. And seeing pictures and posts from Stacy and her life with Russell shows how close the Haney's are, as all families should be, and sets a prime example of how we as families should strive to accomplish. I have prayed every day for their family since this journey has begun and I know how much he will be missed. Ken was their hero, their father and Grandfather, and I feel positive in saying he would want them to continue living life to the fullest. I pray now for their family to be able to heal quickly and I am joyful that they seemed to have had an ample amount of time to spend with Ken, although, it is never enough. Time is are greatest enemy and I myself will try and follow in their footsteps to become a better, more faithful Christian and to hold my family close to my heart as long as time allows.
