“ I apologize for the late entry as I only just heard of Kevin's passing. I worked for Kevin at Trulite as a Director of Finance. Kevin provided me an opportunity to excel and was a great mentor for me that continues to impact my life today. His faith in me and guidance in my career is something I am choosing to pass on to others, which is the greatest legacy he can leave in his professional life. But his personal life was his beacon. At our many dinners while on travel status he consistently talked about his family, specifically his wife and the granddaughter that was the light of his life. His great perspective on the importance of weighing what was really important in life will stick with me forever.

The purpose of my entry is to bring some small level of comfort to the family that remains. You all were the most important thing in his life. Kevin and I spent many hours together in those days, in and away from the office. You can be sure his family was always on his mind, especially the two lovely people mentioned above.

May God bless all of you. If I can help in any way or can share any of the positive memories I have of Kevin, please contact me via call or text at the number below.
