“ Nana was a powerful witness to the fierce determination of a woman of God. She modeled thoughtfulness, joy, critical thinking, a will power that wouldn't stop, and loyalty to those she loved. She lived a life of discipline while also enjoying a good story and a hearty laugh. I was honored to live with Nana for two years as I worked at the church she served so faithfully and as I finished college. She hugged me in times of sorrow, encouraged me when I thought I couldn't go further, challenged me to think deeply and well and lived a life of faith that touched both the heart and the mind. Though I will not be able to be in-person to grieve with those she leaves behind, my life now and for over 25 years has been shaped by Nana's firm and loving guidance. Jim, Wes, Bracken, and Sharon ~ I'm holding you all in my prayers.

*Much love,
Amy*

As children, my sisters and I spent part of every summer with Aunt Laura and our grandparents. She modeled for us what a strong and loving woman looked like. Aunt Laura was always ready to laugh, try something new, and bring all together within her welcoming heart. She was my "home" during college and later a haven of love for me and my family. Nana was cherished by my children and many more. She will be missed.

*With much love and gratitude,
Cindy*

“ When I was 8 my Aunt Laura gave me a little pearl ring. It was the only ring I ever wore other than wedding bands. If Aunt Laura thought I was special, then I was. During college I visited with my Aunts and Grandmother Carrie Mae, and they showed me what a loving group of strong women looks like. I hope my sisters and I have done her proud.

“Laura Cobb was a kind and generous voice throughout my 20 years of knowing her. Yet I recall my first introduction...when I was introduced to the whole family before Nancy and I were married. Aunt Laura made sure I was welcome in her home which included a visit to the catfish house followed by the world famous sheet cake for dessert. Will miss her warm and loving smile.

“Laura Mae was special to so many people in so many different ways. Her compassion for others seemed boundless and her inner strength seemed unlimited. She was the perfect example of a Christian; the kind of person you felt blessed to have in your life. Upon her passing, I am certain a red carpet was rolled out from the Pearly Gates to welcome her home.

“Joan and I will forever have Mrs. Cobb in our hearts. At church we would always go to see her and chat for a moment or two. She had the sweetest heart of any of our church members! As we spoke with her, my first words were "how's my girlfriend?" You could see her smile from inside. We love Mrs. Cobb and she will forever be one of my family's Shining Angels!
