“ I also worked with “Billy” at the Post Office. Mance was a hardworking man and a lot of fun to be around. He loved his family and spoke often of his girls and how proud he was of them. My best memory of him was how he decorated his house, yard and trees at Christmas time. I would drive by his house in December often to see the glow from his house. I teased him that the power company appreciated the extra income at Christmas time. I even gathered up my grandkids one year and we went caroling at his house. He loved it. When he got to the point where he couldn't put them up anymore, I told him the Wetumpka airport was complaining that the planes couldn't land without his lights leading the way. You will be missed my friend. Roll Tide in heaven. Barry Ottinger

“ I met Mance in November 1994 and worked with him off and on until my retirement in 2019. Being as most of us were prior military we tended to call each other by our last names. During those first few months people would hear us calling to Millis... Millis this and Millis that all night. One night this guy named Odom was talking to me about the new guy named Billy working with us. I told Odom we didn't have a guy named Billy in our section. About that time Mance walked up and Odom said " what's up Billy?" Mance said my name is Millis why did you called me Billy? It was all sorted out now and we had a laugh, but from that day in 1994 until 2019 every time I spoke to Mance I called him Billy. Gonna miss ole Billy.
