“ I have so many memories of Matt as a little boy, when the cousins were together at my grandparents house for Christmas, or in the summer. He was always so excited to be there, and so eager to play with our grandfather - he's the only grandchild who was willing to watch wrestling with him. I also remember how much care he took of Julie, when most boys wouldn't have been so interested in a sister several years younger. I haven't been able to spend much time with Matt in more recent years, but I'm so saddened that we've lost him so young.
