“ I can't believe you're gone, and it hurts to my core! I just heard your voice the other day as you were happily making some homemade chili! I'm going to miss all the cooking tips you would give me over the phone! You are the only cook I knew that hardly ever used a measuring cup! You told me the key to it was to season and then taste it until its right! I got grannie girl...I'll just taste it until it's right! Thank you for teaching me how to keep it spicy! (Inside joke) Thank you for accepting my hubby as your own! You told me one day my prince would come, and he did! He is definitely that! Don't worry Grannie, I'll keep him in line just like you did Grandpa John! If he gets crazy I'll use your exact words! "If ya feeling froggy, then jump cause I ain't scared!" Haha I'm going to miss all that sass you delivered! 🥰 I love you forever!!! Your Grand baby Kindra

“ Remembering you is easy. I do it every day. Missing you is the' heartache that never goes away... My I was the daughter you didn't birth. My auntie was my favorite and we have had the best times together. God blessed me to see her, and we enjoyed ourselves last week/weekend together. My Mom, She and I traveled to Tuscaloosa last Saturday and spent time with family. She really enjoyed herself. I Thank God for my cousin Rev. John Tucker (her oldest son) God blessed him to be right there the last two/three year take care of her every need. He really took care of her... My pray is that God strengthens, comforts, and gives peace to the entire family at this difficult time.
