“ Steven and I met about 8 years ago at AUM. We had a group of friends that got pretty close together through endless study sessions and dinner celebrations and "trauma bonding" of adults trying to get an accounting degree. Steven always kept us all in touch all of these years. He refused to let our group fade away after graduation. Two days before he passed away he sent us the latest picture of his pig. He was always ready with a meme or a gif to keep us laughing. My favorite thing about Steven was that he accepted everyone for who they were. Our group was so very different. Different ages, backgrounds and beliefs, but Steven was the glue that held us all together. Usually with a healthy dose of jokes. He always remembered little details about our lives and stayed involved in our little worlds. He supported and celebrated with each of us. I know I speak for what my husband refers to as "the nerd crew" or " Steven and his girls" but the world seems darker without his light. May all of the memories of him comfort his family and closest friends. He will be missed.

“ It is difficult to find words to describe how the loss of Steven deeply hurts my heart. As his college professor at AUM, I came to know and respect his intelligence, work ethic, kindness, humor, and his wit. I was blessed to be part of his journey at AUM and as he started his career at the state. He was one of a kind. Please know that the Deal family grieves with the family and friends during this difficult time.

“ It was a privilege to work with and get to know Steven through the Certified Public Manager (CPM Program) which I facilitate in my role with Auburn University at Montgomery. I always could depend on Steven sharing insightful comments in our classes and appreciated the thorough and good work he always submitted in the program. He made a positive impact on me, his CPM class, and especially the team he was working with. Please know my thoughts and prayers are with his family.

“ My thoughts and prayers are with Casey and family as they go through this difficult time. I met Steven in AUM's CPM class last year and he was such a light in our individual group. His humor, intelligence, and kindness were evident from the beginning. He always shared his love for Casey and shared stories of their adventures with his pups and pig. We celebrated the purchase of their home with him. He was so excited! Our "Committed Crew" group and CPM class will not be the same without Steven. He became a part of our class family and will be forever missed!
