“ Heaven has definitely gained an angel in Ted. He and Steve were so welcoming to all. I remember when my brother visited Olive/Nobles and they went to the basement to photograph orbs. I know he will be keeping an eye on the ones he loves.

“ I remember when I first moved to Montgomery. We were both from Pensacola, and he welcomed me with open arms. I remember the day we discovered his mother was my Spanish teacher, and how proud he was to hear what a great educator she was to me. I remember the discovery of the mural under the paint in Nobles. He was so touched with its historical depiction of Montgomery. There are many stories and memories, but those times stand out to me. Mostly, Ted was a beautiful soul, and the world has surely lost a light.
