“ I worked with Wayne for many years while in Montgomery. In fact he trained me on the night shift in the Dispatch department when I first started working at Alagasco. My favorite memory of Wayne is the fact that he was an organ donor. Wayne donated one of his kidneys to a man he didn't know. He went and got tested to see if he was a good match and when he found that he was, he followed through and donated a kidney. He did this while he was working at Alagasco, so not only did he donate his kidney but also all the time he had to be off from work. Truly a selfless and compassionate act on his part. Praying for his wife and daughters and the rest of his family. RIP my friend.
